

Nixon Lashes Kennedy For Cuban Affair

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, in his first speech on national issues since the election, lashed out Friday at the way President Kennedy handled the Cuban situation.

"Whenever American prestige is to be committed on a major scale," the former vice president told the Executives Club, "we must be willing to commit enough power to obtain our objective even if all our intelligence estimates prove wrong."

"Putting it bluntly, we should not start things unless we are prepared to finish them." "And, we must never talk bigger than we are prepared to act."

This, Nixon insisted, is the lesson to be learned from the Cuban disaster.

"We must not allow a failure to paralyze our will to undertake decisive action in the future," he said.

"The worst thing that could flow from our failure in Cuba is not the temporary drop in prestige which seems to obsess too many observers but that the failure may discourage American policymakers from taking decisive steps in the future because there is a risk of failure."

Curiously, the tone of the speech appeared to be almost the exact reverse of the presidential campaign in which Nixon was so narrowly beaten by his Democratic foe, John F. Kennedy.

Then it was Kennedy who was calling for bolder, more imaginative leadership.

Friday it was Nixon who was urging the President to take a more decisive stand.

One of the first states in the U. S. to grant women the right to vote was Wyoming.

minor technical problems and bad weather followed.

Then the 83-foot-tall projectile shot into the sky, trailing a long streak of vapor.

Two F106 jet planes roared across the Cape. Piloting them were Walter Schirra and Scott Carpenter, members of the seven-man Mercury astronaut team, who watched the launching from the air and sped south to observe the recovery.

The rocket shot into a large cloud overhanging the Cape, then emerged on course.

During the 140 seconds of extreme acceleration, Shepard withstood a pressure of 6 G's without comment.

A sudden puff of smoke high in the sky told ground watchers that the booster's big engine had run out of fuel—on schedule—and the rocket case dropped away. So did the escape tower which had protected him on launch.

A Beautiful View

As the capsule sped on through space, a periscope extended automatically, giving Shepard his first look at the earth below.

"What a beautiful view," he radioed.

Then he reported that he could see the whole Eastern coast of the United States.

Taking manual control of jets which control the capsule, Shepard turned his craft around a full 180 degrees.

This placed the capsule's broad base, shielded against the 3,000-degree heat that air friction would build up when he re-entered the atmosphere on his way down, in position.

Then the capsule went through a test of the braking rockets that will be needed in later orbital flights. The rockets are designed to slow the space craft down so it can drop back into the atmosphere.

Shepard fired the braking rockets on schedule and reported: "Everything very smooth."

As he approached re-entry into the atmosphere, Shepard radioed: "Automatic controls performing properly." That indicated he had shut off his manual controls.

A few seconds later:

"Nine G. Coming down ok."

"Peak G 11. Ok."

Moments later Shepard reported he was at 30,000 feet on the way down.

"First chute has deployed," he said. "Another. All systems A-OK."

By "A-OK," Shepard meant that everything was "double OK"—or perfect.

Seconds later the historic flight was over.

EASTON, Md. (AP) — The J. McKenney Willis Feed and Grain Co. Friday has placed a $500,000 loss estimate on a large grain storage and elevator destroyed by a spectacular fire late Thursday.

The 100-foot tall elevator and storage facility contained 50,000 bushels of corn and barley. A spokesman of the company said the firm hoped to be able to begin again receiving grain stocks from farmers in about 45 days.

Lt. Col. John Powers, spokesman for the astronauts, said he had never seen Shepard more cool and calm.

After an extensive physical checkup, Col. William Douglas, personal physician for the astronauts, declared that Shepard was "in excellent shape and health." He said further tests would be made but he doubted that they would show any ill effects due to the flight.

Col. Douglas said Shepard also was examined by a psychiatrist, Dr. George Ruff of the University of Pennsylvania, and he found "nothing startling or astounding. He was pleased and somewhat amazed that Al is in such good shape."

Col. John Powers said Shepard's schedule then would be:

A half-hour to do as he pleased.

Next a full hour of free dictation into a tape recorder recounting his experiences because "we want to make sure we don't lead him on his thoughts," Powers said.

After this, two engineers will go over details with Shepard concerning how the rocket and capsule worked.

Then Slayton and Grissom will have a session of pilot shop-talk with Shepard.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — A comprehensive 15-month study of the use of women as a Soviet "manpower" resource will be undertaken by University of Maryland economists and demographers.

Financed by a $19,320 grant from the National Science Foundation, the project will focus on the importance of women in Soviet science, engineering and related fields.

MARTINSBURG, W.Va. (AP) — The first section of Interstate Highway 81 in Berkeley County will be opened to traffic June 1, Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers announced Friday.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The annual hike along the towpath of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal is scheduled to take place Saturday with Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas leading the way.

Douglas, who led the original 185-mile walk seven years ago, will lead the reunion walkers the 16 miles from the Seneca Aqueduct to Sycamore Island.

A number of Congressmen as well as Interior Secretary and Mrs. Stewart L. Udall are expected to be among the hikers.

FREDERICK (AP) — William Kratzstein of Long Island, N.Y., has been installed as second assistant U.S. district forester at the forestry office here.

Kratzstein will direct forestry operations in Frederick and Washington counties. For the past year he has worked as a forester in the state of Washington.

HANCOCK, Md. (AP) — A University of Maryland scientist said Friday peach and apple buds in this fruit growing area came through recent periods of sub-freezing temperatures and frost without damage.

Dr. Ben Rogers of the nearby university food laboratory said the buds on the apple and peach trees survived and growers were encouraged by forecasts of warmer weather.

Only once in the last 60 years have the crops been damaged after this stage of the early growing season. On May 17, 1956, half of the peach and apple buds were killed by a heavy frost and temperatures of 28 degrees.

Sewer Plan In LaVale Approved

Willard R. Engle, secretary-treasurer of the LaVale Sanitary Commission, was notified yesterday by James R. McComas, chief of the division of sanitary engineering of the State Department of Health, that a permit for a sanitary facility for an apartment development in Narrows Park has been granted.

McComas said the permit is subject to submission of plans for the sanitary facility and meeting of the maintenance requirements under the state laws affecting sewage plants.

Meanwhile, the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday adopted a resolution in which the public service of Harry Kauffman as chairman of the LaVale Sanitary Commission since May 10, 1959 and as a commission member since May 13, 1949, was lauded.

Kauffman did not seek reappointment to the agency and Lloyd Buchanan replaced him on the commission. The work of Kauffman in helping draft the legislation for the sanitary unit as well as the LaVale Zoning Board was cited by the county commissioners.

The resolution will be placed in the minutes of the board and a copy sent to Kauffman noting the recognition of the commissioners and their gratitude for his efforts.

County Now Assured Of Two Judges

Allegany County will be assured of two Circuit Court judges as a result of Gov. J. Millard Tawes signing into law a bill sponsored by the county's six delegates in the recent session of the General Assembly.

House Bill 484 provides that Allegany County will have an additional judge who will be elected by the residents of this county.

Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey became the county's second judge under a bill that passed the 1960 legislature.

But the 1960 measure did not spell out the manner in which he would be elected in the 1962 election—by the entire Fourth Circuit or by the residents of this county.

Judgeship appointments must be made for not less than two years and the election must be held at the first general voting after the two years are up.

House Bill 484 was amended by the Washington County legislators to provide for a second judge for that county to be elected by residents of that county.

The 1953 General Assembly passed a bill calling for the voters of the state to cast their ballots on a constitutional amendment providing a number of changes in the judicial system.

One of the points in this amendment was the creation of a resident judge for Garrett County.

The voters of the state approved the many-faceted constitutional amendment and through an oversight or error no provision was made for the increase of the number of judges in the Fourth Circuit to four.

With the appointment of Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley in 1954 the circuit had four jurists.

And, when former Chief Judge George Henderson retired in 1959 the number of judges in the circuit was reduced to three, the number stated by law.

So, Allegany County lost its second judgeship. At least two attempts were made by county legislators following the 1954-1953 constitutional amendment bill to restore the second judge, but they failed.

Finally, in 1960 a bill providing for a constitutional amendment giving the circuit its second judgeship was passed and in the November election it was approved. Subsequently, Associate Judge Cobey was appointed by Gov. Tawes.

House Bill 484 rectifies the previous oversight or error and specifies that two judges come from Allegany County.

YMCA's throughout the country are being asked to cooperate in this world service project which is in line with regular projects conducted by YMCA in 78 countries of the world.

Fleming Says Meeting On Entries 'Uncalled For'

The question of whether the mayor of the City of Cumberland or a commissioner has the right to call a meeting concerning the department of an absent commissioner remains up in the air.

At a meeting of city and police officials yesterday at City Hall, Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said a session called Monday in his absence to discuss a series of breakings and enterings with police officials was:

"Uncalled for."

And Mayor J. Edwin Keech, who called for the discussion Monday with officials of the Police department, replied:

"You are making a mountain out of a molehill. I don't have to take orders from you or answer any questions from you."

Fleming was by his own admission upset when he returned from a Norfolk, Va., traffic safety conference to read that a meeting had been held on the breakings and enterings during the absence of himself, Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney and Lt. W. E. Shank.

Thursday he asked for a meeting of council members and three officers who had attended Monday's session, Detective Captain James E. Van, Detective Thomas J. See and Assistant Police Chief John E. Sherry.

As Fleming was explaining about being upset and provoked at reading about the meeting, Mayor Keech interrupted to say he had called the meeting after receiving numerous phone calls, one asking "if the Mayor and Council is interested."

He denied any interference with police department orders or policy and said that in view of Fleming's absence he went to the next men in rank in the department and asked for a briefing.

"The way you announced this meeting Thursday," Keech said, "I am on trial."

Fleming told the Mayor: "You went about it wrong. I don't think the public as a whole should be told what we are doing (in criminal cases). It's like a state's attorney telling a defense attorney what his case is."

Fleming also said he felt the meeting put the Police Department in "the middle." Then he added that the department has been forced on the defensive for years and should not be left "wide open for criticism."

"Keech said he saw nothing wrong with the statement issued after Monday's meeting that all possible was being done despite the fact that the police are faced with a serious manpower shortage."

Fleming recalled in his three years in office, he has asked for 10 additional men but has been refused each time because of lack of money. He said he has resorted to use of scooters to check meters and increase manpower presently available and recently decided to bring in a police dog to assist in apprehension work.

At one point, Mayor Keech said it seemed as if a city official could not ask a question without first getting permission. He added that he had called the meeting to let the people know that "you (Fleming) are doing all you can."

Fleming commended the men in his department for the job they are doing but pointed out that the department must be concerned with all violations of the law and not just one phase. For example, he said, the department could not ignore violations of traffic laws entirely to concentrate on breakings and enterings and vice versa.

Keech then said: "Nobody can criticize the police for the job they are doing."

A discussion also was held with Capt. Van who at one point disputed the statement he was head of the Detective Bureau. He said he did not believe so because his orders, under the present setup, could be countermanded at any time by the lieutenant in charge of a platoon. One case was cited to support this claim in which a patrolman was assigned to a place where gasoline was being stolen. Van said the man was taken off this job for another and that same night more gasoline was taken. Plainclothesmen are also assigned without his knowledge, he said.

He asked if the procedure could be reversed, giving him full charge with men in his bureau answering to him, and Van, in turn, answering to Chief Gaffney.

Chief Gaffney raised the point about "personalities" entering in to department practices and said when the chief, head of the Detective Bureau and heads of shifts can sit down and work things out, "then we will go some place. The one aim of the department is to prevent crime."

What is needed, the chief said, is a happy medium of all agencies instead of "individualists."

Commissioner Lucile Roeder said she felt policy should be flexible to allow for such meetings as held Monday in the absence of a commissioner.

Commissioner G. Ray Light said he believed intent of the meeting was misconstrued and that there was no attempt made to criticize a department or "step on toes." He said he felt police are doing a good job despite the shortage of manpower.

Fleming said that in order to add men to the Detective Bureau he would have to sacrifice traffic. The bureau could use five men, he added, then said that one of the main problems in solving a breaking and entering is lack of public cooperation. In one recent incident, a resident waited two days before calling police to report seeing a man running from the scene of a theft.

The need for a more complete educational and training program for new members of the force also was cited.

Fleming earlier in the meeting said "it is strange to me that everybody gets phone calls about

Forestry Unit Rents County Quarters

R. Thomas Thayer Jr., district forester, yesterday requested the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to renew the rental agreement for the four rooms on the third floor of the Court House which are used by the State Department of Forests and Parks.

The annual rental for the quarters is $2,700 and covers the per-these things but me."

He said public officials are always criticized then added he spends 60 per cent of his time with the police and fire commissioner job in order to make the city livable. He said he has one of the top-notch Detective Bureaus in the state and the department is mechanically improved.

"A little story like that (Monday's meeting) can tear down the morale of the force," Fleming claimed.

iod from July 1 to June 30, 1962. This is the second year the county has rented the quarters, which were occupied for many years free of charge.

Atmosphere Darkening For Catholic Church In Cuba, Haiti, Dominican Republic

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Signs of a religious whirlwind are building up today in the lands of the Caribbean.

Not only in Cuba is the atmosphere darkening, but also in Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

The strains of last year's election conflict between the Roman Catholic Church and the government in Puerto Rico also linger.

For months, in the other island countries, the tension has been mounting with periodic open clashes.

When Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro let it be known this week that his regime plans to expel foreign Roman Catholic priests and nationalize Catholic-run schools, the move was not without advance portents.

Early this year, he had said,

"Falangist priests still reign in the church schools, inculcating counterrevolution in the youths," and the government planned to get rid of "the sowers of traitors."

Cuba has many Spanish priests. Last February, an electro-mechanical training center run by Jesuits was seized by the government. The Cuban hierarchy has criticized the regime. The conflict has caused breaches in the church.

A Cuban priest, the Rev. Gerardo Lence, suspended last year for defying a bishop, has set up a separate government-supported religious association called "With the Cross and Fatherland."

Protestant churches in Cuba have fared variously, some of them reporting rapid gains and expansion. But the picture lately has become uncertain, with contact with the Cuban churches broken.

In Haiti, the government of President Francois Duvalier last year ousted two bishops, and anti-Catholic action continued into this year.

The Vatican has declared that everyone who had anything to do with the expulsions was excommunicated. Presumably this included the president and other high officials of the predominantly Catholic nation.

Last February, French-born Bishop Paul Robert was ousted from his residence in Port-au-Prince, and forced to take refuge in the residence of the papal representative in Haiti. About 25 priests and 20 nuns were reported arrested.

The government blamed "for last year led the Catholic hierarchy priests" for the unrest, and archy to protest "flagrant violations of human rights."

Rev. Claudius Angenor, as administrator of Catholic affairs in the Vatican's nuncio an "international provocateur" and expelled him. An estimated 46 Civilita Catholica, called the priests and 150 nuns have since been expelled. The government has said it plans to eliminate religious instruction in grade Trujillo, mass arrests of citizens/schools.

Later, the government called

A Jesuit review in Rome, called the priests and 150 nuns have since been expelled. The government has said it plans to eliminate religious instruction in grade

STORM of LIFE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"If only I could get out from under, get away from it all, find some island of peace . . ."

Like everybody else, we want to escape our problems and pressures. We are seeking calm away from the storm of life.

But we can't escape from life. We can't run away from the storm but we can find calm in the storm. When a hurricane sweeps across the countryside, its circling winds lashing out in destruction, there is always in the center, an area of quiet. In the eye of the storm there is calm.

Faith is not an escape, a running away into religion. It is finding the presence and adequacy of God to face life triumphantly. It is finding an inner center of peace while the winds blow outside.

The Church points the way to peace. It helps us to find the inner experience of faith.

"I have found my island . . . an island of peace in my heart. I have found calm . . . the calm of God in the storm of life . . ."

Some Negro Children Shun Integration

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI) — Negro children or their parents are primarily to blame for any school segregation in Raleigh County, an attorney for the county school board said Thursday.

Fletcher Mann insisted that if there's "too little" integration of schools here, it's because "the Negro child and his family do not want it."

Mann's comment came after a disclosure by West Virginia NAACP general counsel Willard Brown, Charleston, that he would ask U. S. District Judge John A. Field Jr. to re-open May 15 a five-year-old case involving integration in Raleigh County.

Brown charged that the board had not complied with the spirit of a 1956 agreement that averted a full-scale federal court hearing. At that time, the Raleigh board agreed to proceed with full integration as fast as possible.

Brown said he may ask Field to re-open a similar case involving McDowell County.

Raleigh County School Supt. Sherman Trail also denied that whites were dragging their feet here in school integration.

Trail said no distinction is made between white and Negro children in school admissions. In fact, he said, there no longer is a place on school records to designate the color of a child's skin.

Byrd Favors Mountain Parkway

550-Mile Highway Is Advocated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Details of a proposed Allegheny parkway stretching along mountain tops through West Virginia were outlined today by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va.

The scenic route would extend about 550 miles from Hagerstown, Md., to Cumberland Gap, Ky.

Byrd told a news conference he believes, without having asked him, that President Kennedy would approve the mountain highway. It would cost an estimated $500 million.

Byrd, who has offered a bill in Congress to authorize the scenic route, said he has conferred with Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

"Both were enthusiastic and both expressed the hope it can be realized," Byrd said.

Co-sponsoring the bill are Sens. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va.; John Marshall Butler and J. Glenn Beall, Maryland Republicans; and John Sherman Cooper and Thurston B. Morton, Kentucky Republicans.

Petersburg Faces Hearing On Pollution

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The West Virginia Water Resources Commission accepted a timetable from one Northern Panhandle city Friday and ordered another to submit a written report on stream pollution.

The commission also ordered three communities and one coal firm to appear at a later date to explain why they should not immediately halt the dumping of waste matter into streams.

Wellsburg and New Cumberland were charged with polluting the Ohio River with sewage wastes and summoned before the commission to explain what they were doing to halt this.

The commission heard a report on a plan by Wellsburg to complete its disposal project by 1963 and found it acceptable. However, it ordered New Cumberland to submit additional information after it had appeared last month in an informal hearing.

Athens, Oceana, Petersburg and the Maust Coal Co. must show cause at hearings next month on why they have not complied with orders to cease pollution. It also ordered the Ames Coal Co. to complete its abatement project on a tributary of the Guyandotte River in Mingo County within 30 days after hearing a progress report by a company official.

The commission approved a report by the city of Charleston showing completion of its sewage disposal system by 1963.

A report by Island Creek Coal Co. on a charge of allowing high acid-content coal washery waters to pollute tributaries of the Guyandotte or Tug Rivers in Logan, McDowell and Mingo Counties also was accepted by the commission.

The commission also accepted a report by the city of Charleston showing completion of its sewage disposal system by 1963.

The Committee Way Of Life

The best way of dealing with a vexatious public issue—other than solving it, of course, is to form a committee to consider it. This is often a method of insuring that nothing will be done, or if it is done, it will not be done for a long time, so everyone can forget the matter.

There is another advantage. The issue cannot be raised in the meantime. If someone should be tactless enough to do so, he can always be silenced with the crushing response, "That is being considered by the committee!"

The other day President Kennedy ordered 41 committees to be considered as "expired." The total seems modest. Indeed, it seems hardly enough to compensate for the annual committee birth rate.

Britain cherishes committees. Not long ago Prime Minister Macmillan revealed that in a five-year period 85 committees of inquiry into social and economic matters were formed. In addition, there were four royal commissions.

One American committee was set up in 1933 to investigate substitutes for cocaine. It met twice but never got around to issuing a report. In 1955 there were two survivors. They could not remember what had happened to the committee, except that the other members had died one by one.

In Britain they have a tongue-in-cheek definition for committees. A committee is a group of important persons who singly think that nothing can be done and who together are agreed that it can't.

Who Is Wrong?

This is in response to a letter from a lady in Louisiana, who writes:

"Without knowing much about the Russians, I am sure that their development and accomplishments are spotty and I think we should be told about it."

"I know that their development has been remarkable but what about theirs in comparison to ours."

"I imagine that they lack aesthetic sense. Their interests are limited in their scope. They set a goal and achieve it, but there are more goals than are heard of in their philosophy."

"Do you realize how wonderful we are? I would hate to turn a middle middle class (sic) Russian loose among the second hand stores and tell her to develop a home. The result would be horrid. An American woman can develop a charming home with soap boxes and a little paint. Our working girls have the grooming and good taste of debutantes. Things like that are not superficial. They require admirable qualities."

Perhaps the weakness in our position as regards Soviet Russia is that we have underestimated the Russians. The assumption in the above letter is that the Russians are barbarians, although there is a history of more than a thousand years of culture and civilization of a very high order. As long as we believe that every Russian is a moujik, we shall continue to underestimate the peoples who live in the vast area which is marked Russian on the map.

How can anyone say that the Russians lack an aesthetic sense, by which, I assume that my correspondent means that the Russians have produced nothing in the various fields of art. One need only know Russian music, Rimsky-Korsakov, Tchaikovsky, Rachmaninoff, to mention only a few pre-Bolshevik composers, or in literature, Tolstoy, Gorki, Chekhov, merely to scratch the surface of the subject. In science, the Russians and Poles have a long and important history, including Copernicus (a Pole), Mendeleev who worked out the table of valences, and among moderns many others.

I am not listing the wonders of Russia. That is their job. I am denouncing the ignorance of those who believe that wisdom and knowledge can be the monopoly of any one people.

After all, Avicenna (born in Bukhara in 980), one of the great philosophers of the Middle Ages, came from a country which is now become weak and backward.

It is not lessening the structure of the United States to recognize that there have been about 8,000 years or more of written history, whereas we have been on this continent only three centuries. We have inherited from others because the culture of man is continuous. Greece and Rome and Palestine and the long ancestral history of England have played an enormous role in the development of the United States.

The assumption of exclusiveness is distorting. It leads to false conclusions. We exaggerated the significance of Sputnik because we assumed that the Russians could never do what we could not yet do. Some folks, even yet, refuse to believe that there has been a Sputnik and a Lunik and it is this lack of understanding which is partly responsible for our failures in Cuba, the Congo, Laos and elsewhere. Someone spread the notion that there is some extraordinary gift called know-how which is exclusively American. We have been shocked to discover that know-how is exclusive to no people; that what one people knows is soon known to all.

In the 1920s we spoke of the United States as "God's own country," which was both unhistorical and sacrilegious, for surely all the universe is God's. The metaphor, however, meant that this was the best country on Earth to live in, which is true for Americans but not for Hindus, Chinese, Welshmen or Scandinavians. They like their own country as we like ours. Therefore, when the 1929 Depression appeared we morally dropped dead. When Roosevelt tried to convince us that a third of the nation were economically disabled, we forgot about "God's own country," which became a corny expression. We insisted that all American history prior to 1932 had been an error and that we need to try altogether new methods. Thus, producing the confusing New Deal.

We need a more realistic attitude toward ourselves and toward the rest of the world. We need to recognize that we are one fact in a vast geography and a long history and that we dare not exaggerate our own importance or underestimate the values of other nations. There is no greater peril than ignorance overlaid by emotions particularly when we reject knowledge to prove an assumption. The error of the past 40 years in our relations with Soviet Russia and Soviet satellites is that we have been unwilling to believe the truth about them because the proof did not sound true.

Khrushchev Really Means What He Says: Alsop

By Stewart Alsop

Joseph Alsop is on a brief vacation. During his absence his brother Stewart will write the Alsop column.

WASHINGTON The rather special circumstance of a brother's demanding a couple of weeks of column-writing as a wedding present is hardly likely to be repeated. So this is doubtless the last column under the above by-line that will ever appear in this space. This reporter therefore feels a bit like a dying man who wants to be remembered for his famous last words, but can't think of any. The best I can do is: Khrushchev really means what he says.

The British could never quite bring themselves to believe that Hitler really meant the crazy things he said in "Mein Kampf." But Hitler did mean them, because he was crazy too.

Nikita Khrushchev is not crazy. Unlike Hitler, he has no irrational impulse to play Samson in the temple. But it is important to realize that Khrushchev and those around him are rational within the limits imposed by the essentially irrational doctrine of Marxism-Leninism. This doctrine makes it possible for Khrushchev, like the White Queen, to "believe six impossible things before breakfast," as when he remarked, in Mr. Walter Lippmann's fascinating interview with him, that he considered President Kennedy merely an agent of the Rockefeller interests.

No doubt Khrushchev really believes this. More important, there is no doubt at all that he really believes that what his idol Lenin called "the cause of creating a world-wide Soviet republic" is sure to triumph, and rather soon now. Indeed, in recent months he has been predicting that triumph more confidently than ever before.

He has been quite explicit, moreover, about how the triumph is to be achieved. He announced gloatingly more than a year ago that "the world balance of power has now turned sharply in favor of the Socialist countries." In his dispute with the Chinese Communists, he has ruled out the use of this power in a global nuclear war in order to insure the triumph of the "world-wide Soviet republic." But, he says, "we shall make the imperialists jump like fishes in a saucepan, even without war."

By "imperialists" he means us, and in Southeast Asia, Cuba, and elsewhere, we have indeed been jumping like fishes in a saucepan. Moreover, Khrushchev has also been quite explicit about what he means by "without war." He means without the kind of war which might destroy the Soviet Union. Other wars are dandy. "We support wholeheartedly and without reservation all national liberation wars," he said a few weeks ago.

This is the kind of war Khrushchev and the Chinese and Indo-Chinese Communists have been promoting in Southeast Asia. It is wholly predictable that there will be more such wars, not only because Khrushchev means what he says, but because he must prove to the Chinese that he is, as a Communist, more royalist than the king.

Once you assume that Khrushchev means what he says, certain things become clear. One is that the cold war will go on, perhaps for generations. When the Kennedy administration took office, there were those in the Ken-

RUSK OPPOSED—Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and Under-secretary of State Chester Bowles, were two top administration advisers who urged President Kennedy not to undertake support of the rebel faction that failed so miserably in the attempted invasion of Cuba.

Despite the fact that they were overruled, both have pitched in manfully to clear away the wreckage and rebuild American prestige in Latin America and elsewhere in the world.

However, what really has brought words of admiration from other administration insiders is that not once in the many conversations in which they have participated since, has either man said or intimated, "I told you so."

It takes big men to resist letting the boss know they were right.

GOBBLEDEGOOK—The search for "governmentese" goes on unabated among those persons in Washington who must endlessly read official speeches, statements and announcements. A fine example was found the other day in an unlikely place, a message to Congress by President Kennedy, who has been charming this capital with his clear and precise prose.

The word he coined was "focalize," and it sent aficionados scurrying around to find the President's meaning. Kennedy told Congress he wanted to "focalize responsibility within the agencies," and the best guess is that he had worked out a longer way of saying "focus."

Aspirin Now Used To Lower Blood Cholesterol

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Aspirin is the latest drug to be added to the products that reduce the level of cholesterol in the blood. Dr. M. Eldlitz of Tel Aviv, Israel, gave it to 10 patients recovering from heart attacks and the blood cholesterol level fell strikingly. He used the equivalent of one 5-grain aspirin tablet four times a day.

MER 29, nicotinic acid, female sex hormones, thyroid extract, anticoagulants, plant steroids, and vegetable oils also are used for this purpose. The idea is to keep down the blood cholesterol so arteriosclerosis will be delayed, reversed, or prevented.

Nevertheless, the medical profession is not convinced that lowering the blood cholesterol lessens the chance of having heart attacks or angina pectoris. Furthermore, when the agent is discontinued, the cholesterol level rises. We need to find out why.

To be on the safe side, many physicians have turned to the low fat diet as the most sensible approach to the problem. Eating less animal fats, cream, butter, and ice cream will do no harm and might keep us a bit slimmer. Vegetable oils and fish contain polyunsaturated fatty acids and have the opposite effect. They nullify the adverse action of animal fats on the arteries.

Those most likely to be bothered by high cholesterol and hardening of the arteries usually have other high risk factors that are just as important to treat. Some have a family history of trouble along this line. Others are obese, have high blood pressure, diabetes, gout, low metabolism, or too much cholesterol.

CIA Bungling Of Cuban Invasion Started A Year Before Landing Day

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Careful examination of what went wrong in the Cuban rebel invasion shows that the seeds of disaster had been sown by the Central Intelligence Agency long before the Cuban freedom fighters splashed ashore at the Bay of Pigs.

The unbelievable bungling began with the pre-invasion missions last year. To smuggle arms and saboteurs into Cuba, the CIA organized a private navy and began recruiting refugee Cuban seamen.

However, the CIA did not seem to trust Cubans with the liberation of their own homeland and hired American merchant officers to command this private navy of ancient ships.

Many of these American mercenaries turned out to be drunks and derelicts. Some even refused to associate with the Cubans whom they were supposed to lead. One skipper, G. C. Julian, insisted upon naming his Cuban freedom vessel the "Barbara J." after his wife.

The American skipper of an LCI (landing craft infantry) became roaring drunk before he reached a secret rendezvous point less than three miles from a Cuban naval station. He was supposed to meet a small boat which approached under cover of the night.

The skipper peered into the darkness, then switched on the flood lights so he could see better. The underground leaders, who were risking their lives in the small boat, took off before they were detected from the shore. But the drunken skipper followed in hot pursuit, flood lights still blazing and spotlight stabbing the darkness in search of the fleeing boat.

On another night, the same skipper dropped a sabotage team near Santiago De Cuba and waited offshore for them to do their damage. Suddenly the stillness was shattered by gunfire from shore, and tracer bullets cut patterns in the dark.

The skipper declared that he intended to abandon the saboteurs and get the h— out of there. A Cuban medical officer, Sergio Rodriguez, however, stopped him by holding a gun at his head until the saboteurs had scrambled back on board.

The Invasion Armada

For the invasion, the CIA assembled probably the most motley, makeshift armada that has ever embarked upon conquest. It included three commercial ships—the Rio Escondido, Huston, and Atlantic—leased from the Garcia Lines in such haste that the crews were never checked for security. At least two members turned out to be loyal Castroites who tried to signal Cuba of the coming invasion.

There was also considerable confusion over who was commanding the invasion fleet. Eduardo Garcia, as boss of the Garcia Lines, considered himself in command and made the Rio Escondido the flagship.

But his flagship developed engine trouble before it reached the staging area and could only make four knots. Hence it had to be dispatched toward Cuba four days ahead of the invasion fleet was supposed to lead.

The Free Cuban Navy, which contributed two LCIs and several landing barges to the task force, designated the LCI "Blagard" as the flagship. This was commanded by an American merchant officer for whose benefit the invasion plan was spelled out in English.

His job as flagship commander was to direct the landing barges by radio. But in the middle of the action, he forgot the battle plan.

A Cuban underwater demolition expert, Eduardo Zayaz Bazan, happened to have memorized the plan, was hustled to the skipper's side and prompted him on what orders to issue next.

Thus the invasion started off with two flagships in command, each giving orders. In addition, several crew members would take orders from only Jesus Blanco, a former Cuban naval officer, who had recruited them.

Tank Shells Destroyed

Unfortunately, the CIA had loaded all the aviation gas, tank shells, and anti-tank mines aboard the slow-moving Rio Escondido. Early in the fighting, one of Castro's Sea Fury fighters hurled a bomb into her side, and she went down in flames with all her cargo.

This left the freedom fighters on the beach without the tank shells and the anti-tank mines so necessary to hold off Castro's tanks. The freedom fighters had managed to capture an air strip near Jaguay Grande as a forward base for their planes. But without aviation gas, the base was useless.

On D-Day, a 168-man commando force, commanded by Nino Diaz, was ordered to make a diversionary landing on the Cuban coast. Diaz was prepared to go ashore in Oriente Province where he had once fought at Castro's side and where he knew the terrain intimately.

When Diaz opened his sealed orders at sea, however, he found that the CIA wanted him to land at an unfamiliar spot in Camaguey Province, not Oriente. Rather than fight on unknown terrain, he returned disgustedly to his Louisiana camp. Later he learned that 20,000 of Castro's loyal militiamen had been waiting near the site the CIA had selected for him in Camaguey Province.

It's Still A Dandy

By John Crosby

"Gone with the Wind" is the story of a Southern girl. Oh, boy, is it ever the story of a Southern girl. From the moment when it opens with Scarlett O'Hara flapping her big green eyes at a couple of Southern beaux on the porch of the old plantation, Tara, to the end (three hours and forty-five minutes later) looking at the old plantation from a vantage point sufficiently far away so that one can see the whole house tragically symbolic of a way of life that has vanished, Scarlett is hardly off the screen for more than a minute at a time.

Both David O. Selznick, who produced it, and Sidney Howard, who wrote the screenplay, were insistent on having close to Margaret Mitchell's novel and Miss Mitchell never let Scarlett out of her sight for very long. As a matter of fact, in the whole long length of the book, I can only remember one sustained scene without Scarlett right in the middle of it, and that occurred after the death of Scarlett's little girl. Her old Negro mammy and Melanie discuss a scene that was apparently too painful to write firsthand. It's about Scarlett but she's not there.

I can recall mild criticisms directed at the movie when it was first released twenty-two years ago because there were no scenes of Civil War battles. Well, there weren't any in the book. The viewer and the reader follow the progress of the war from afar with Scarlett scanning the casualty lists, or getting a letter telling her of the comic death of her first husband (pneumonia following measles). I have always felt strongly that this is one of the reasons for the sustained power of the book and the movie—that one identifies completely with this Southern Irish Becky Sharpe.

The other and more obvious reason is that it is a record of the death of a civilization which has a very high nostalgic value, especially in these hurried times. How well does "G with the W," as they used to call it, stand up after twenty-two years? I took my children who are roughly a decade younger than the picture and I ran into a swarm of teenagers queuing up for blocks to see the old classic. "It's been like this since it opened," said a press agent. "The biggest part of the audience is fifteen to sixteen years old."

It's still a hell of a picture. The tremendous narrative drive captured and held me from the opening through the burning of Atlanta, the flight back to Tara, and right to that memorable scene when the hungry Scarlett tries to eat and retches over a raw carrot. That used to be the intermission but they have cut that out. From then on, things drag a bit and I found myself a little restive.

There are many things I'd forgotten. For one thing "Gone with the Wind" has laughs, great big buffaloes that I'd forgotten. Some of its characterization in the minor parts has got through the passage of years a bit too quaint for comfort. For instance, Mammy is just too bloody Mammy: "Yo hush yo' mouf, child, befo De Lawd done strike you blind." Then there's the overseer, who comes back as a carpet-bagger and tries to buy Tara, who walked straight out of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." To say nothing of Belle Watling, the town madam, talking to Melanie: "It ain't fitten for you to be seen talking to me. And if you pass me on the street, you don't have to say hello. I'll understand."

But Vivien Leigh is a marvelous mixture of fire and allure and bitchery. Clark Gable plays Rhett Butler to the hilt not only in this picture but most of his life. Olivia de Havilland is lovely, gentle, and a little unreal as Melanie (but then Melanie is a little unreal). Leslie Howard is the very model of Southern gentility as Ashley Wilkes.

"Gone with the Wind" is still about five times the picture "Ben Hur" is. I don't feel twenty-two years older, though.

Firm Given Design Job

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved a contract with the Baker, Wibberly and Associates, Inc., a Hagerstown firm of engineering consultants, for the designing of a detention building at the County Infirmary for juveniles.

A meeting was held at the Infirmary site last Saturday at which the general program was discussed with an official of the Hagerstown firm, Juvenile Court attaches, representatives of the Allegany County Youth Commission and the county commissioners.

The county commissioners placed $32,000 in the budget for the coming fiscal year for the project.

The county board received a letter of congratulations from Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Department of Public Welfare, for going ahead with the project. Waxter said erection of the detention quarters will provide a much needed facility in Allegany County and is a step forward in handling juveniles who need assistance for one reason or another.

Ambulances first were used in war in 1792.

Ann Landers ...

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I just turned 15. Last night was the fifth date of my entire life. It was my second date with J.

We double dated and had a great time. When J. insisted on taking the other girl and fellow home first (although the fellow lives next door to him) I thought something was fishy. Then he started to talk about "Snowballs" which is what fellows call girls who are not as friendly as "Fireballs." I knew he was building up to a goodnight kiss, and decided he wasn't going to get one.

"Goodnight. Thanks for a lovely time." He said "If you can't say thanks any better than to say 'no' my last date with YOU, Aunt Hattie." Then he left—mad.

My girl friend said I was stupid not to give him a little goodnight kiss because now he'll probably never ask me out again. I don't want to be considered fast, but I don't want to be known as a prude, either. Was I wrong?

—SNOWBALL
DEAR SNOWBALL: You were right and I salute you. A girl who has learned how to say "no" in the minor skirmishes is well prepared for the major battles that lie ahead.

If the boy passes the word that you're stingy with your kisses he won't damage your reputation one bit. Fellows like to strive for the prize. Only then is it considered an achievement. I'll bet anything he calls again.

The question is this: I want to get my maiden name back and forget I ever knew this jerk. My friends tell me it is not respectable for a woman who has been married to try to pawn herself off as "a maiden." I'm not trying to pawn myself as anything. I just don't want any reminder of the guy, least of all his name. Is this proper?—MISS I HOPE

DEAR MISS: If you and the jerk—I mean your former husband—had no children, it is perfectly proper for you to go back to your maiden name.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a woman 51 years old who has never married because of an invalid mother who has been my responsibility for the past 35 years.

Of late I've been feeling so miserable that I've wanted to go to sleep and never wake up. I went to the doctor and answered all his personal questions in the presence of his nurse.

Yesterday, while shopping in the market, a neighbor came up and said "I hear you've been so depressed lately you're in danger of losing your mind." I was so taken aback that I almost collapsed right there. I asked her where she heard such a thing and she replied "The nurse who works for Dr. ——— told the girls in her bridge club." She went on to relate details which could only have come from the nurse or the doctor, and I know very well the doctor doesn't talk. What shall I do?—R. S.

DEAR R. S.: It is difficult to imagine such an unforgivable breach of professional ethics, and perhaps you have misunderstood the source of the gossip you heard. I suggest you go see the doctor again and clear up the whole ugly mess, in the presence of his nurse.

Labor Leaders Seek Veto Of Idle Pay Act

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Labor leaders urged Gov. Tawes Friday to veto a bill tightening unemployment benefit requirements, but advising that the conference he probably will sign the measure.

"It doesn't look very good," said W. F. Strong, president of the Maryland D. C. AFL - CIO. "The way everything points now he's going to sign the bill."

Tawes told the labor leaders he would look into their complaints that thousands of auto and steel workers will be denied benefits in July because of forced vacations during plant slowdowns for retooling. They said vacation pay previously was not considered compensation for purpose of jobless benefits and that many workers do not receive enough vacation pay to cover the period of layoff.

Other Leaders Attend

Appearing with Strong were E. T. Michael, director of Region 8 of the United Auto Workers; Albert J. Mattes, international representative of the UAW; Louis G. Jeffries, chairman of the shop committee of UAW Local 678 in Baltimore; John Lesnick, international representative of the United Steelworkers; Charles Della, secretary-treasurer of the Maryland D. C. AFL - CIO; and Joseph Schield, Baltimore County councilman and trustee of the auto workers.

The labor leaders met with the governor for more than an hour in his office after a luncheon they attended to present a four-year college scholarship to an Annapolis youth, David S. Cannell. They opposed restrictive features of the bill although it also placed them in a position of opposing an increase in the maximum benefit for unemployment payments from $35 to $38 a week. The increase is written into the act.

Strong said that in addition to the plea that thousands of workers on enforced vacations would be deprived of benefits this summer, the group also told the governor the bill was "legislated during a hysterical period and by use of a trick phrase—plugging loopholes."

Doubts "Loopholes" Exist

He said it had never been established that alleged "loopholes" exist in the present law, but that if they do there are administrative avenues to take care of them.

"We reaffirmed we are not condoning chiseling and malingering but at the same time we don't think those eligible for unemployment benefits should be restricted," Strong said.

The bill would deny benefits to certain persons who voluntarily quit their jobs, are dismissed, and are not actively seeking employment. The director of the Department of Employment Security would be given discretion over such cases. Strong complained this sets up the director as a "czar."

He said a provision that a person must get another job and earn 10 times his weekly benefit amount before qualifying for new benefits will also work a hardship. "There are few areas where a man can get another job and earn $100 to $380 in order to qualify for further compensation," Strong said.

SRC Files Action In Condemnation

The State Roads Commission has filed a condemnation suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against 21 owners of property in Election District 3 needed for the improvement of U. S. Route 40 on the east side of Polish Mountain to Fifteen Mile Creek. These 21 persons living in seven states are the known heirs of Bertha A. Devilbliss. The SRC seeks some 4,485 acres of their land and has deposited a check with Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court, for $3,600, which the state agency deems a fair price for the property.

Owners of this property live in Maryland, Virginia, Michigan, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Nebraska and Iowa.

What's Your View On Job Interview?

In the afterglow of graduation, will you be shopping for your first full-time job? Have you begun to feel a little apprehensive as the time for that interview approaches?

If you have, good for you! That's the first sign that you are priming yourself seriously for that important "impression" you want to present to prospective employers. That's your signal for advance planning in all the areas that will enhance your opportunities, from your personal appearance to the careful way you outline your educational qualifications. Start now. Good positions—the kind careers are built upon—are rarely the result of blind chance or lucky breaks.

What should you wear? What should you say? How should you act? Don't WORRY about the answers to these questions THINK about them. Try a little make believe and put yourself behind the desk marked "Personnel."

If you were an employer, what kind of girl would you be most likely to hire? In all probability it would be the young lady who appeared to be the most pleasant; someone whose personality and attitude could survive past a single, superficial interview.

You would look at each hopeful applicant and try to see how she would appear and conduct herself in everyday relationship with her co-workers. You'd ask yourself: "Is this a person we would enjoy meeting and working with day after day?"

Now, still pretending, ask yourself how you, as prospective employer, would rate gum-chewing, giggling, fidgeting? How would you react to gaudy dress, garish makeup, sloppy grooming?

You might find even less appeal in stiff severity and lack of humor or in drab "don't care" dowdiness. Or in pseudo-sophistication or snobbishness.

Check our views with mine in my booklet, "Your Steps to a Successful Career." Send for a copy today by addressing a request to this newspaper, enclosing 10c and a stamped self-addressed envelope.

I think you'll find we agree, you and I, on the kind of people who "wear well," day after day. And most employers agree. This is the kind of girl-graduate who gets the job!

Carry Back Is 5-2 Favorite For Off Track In Derby

Rain Pours On Kentucky For Classic

Favorite "Superior" Mudder; Crozier Is 3-1 Second Choice

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The rain poured on Louisville Friday as 15 horses awaited the call for the 87th Kentucky Derby.

Strangely enough, not one of the trainers with the leading contenders for Saturday's 3-year-old classic seemed concerned about the prospect for an off track at Churchill Downs.

Carry Back remained the 5-2 choice for the mile and one-quarter romp, and the steady rain may taper off into showers by Saturday won't hurt his chances off past performances.

Superior Mud Runner

Mrs. Katherine Price's Florida-bred colt is the only one of the 15 slated to start that is labeled a "superior" mud runner. Carry Back scored two of his most important victories on a sloppy track, the Garden State Stakes last October and the Florida Derby April 1.

Fred W. Hooper's Crozier, beaten by a head in the Florida Derby, is listed as a good mudder. Crozier broke the Churchill Downs' track record for the mile Tuesday in winning the Derby Trial. The track was dry and fast.

Robert Lehman's Ambipose, second by 3 1/2 lengths in the Garden State, carries a fair mud-running label. So do the Alberta Ranches' Four-and-Twenty, hero of the Santa Anita Derby; Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster, who upset Carry Back in the Wood Memorial; the Jacnot Stable's Light Talk, and J. Graham Brown's On His Metal.

Bass Clef, owned by Mrs. Vera Smith and winner of the Louisiana Derby and Emil A. Dusi's Dearborn are good mud operators. There are no mud ratings for the others—Alberta Ranches' Flutterm, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Dr. Miller, Brae Burn Farm's Jay Fox, Eastwood Stable's Loyol and Son, Wilbur Clark and William Radkovich's Ronnie's Ace, and Jacob Sher's Sherluck.

Crozier Second Choice

"Crozier doesn't have to carry his kind of track around with him," said trainer Chuck Parke. The colt is the 3-1 second choice.

Vance Longden, trainer of Flutterm and Four-and-Twenty, was all smiles. "As far as I'm concerned, it can rain all day."

Post time is 4:30 p.m. EST with television and radio (CBS) going on the network at 4:15. The weatherman, who said the sun might pop out between showers, expected the afternoon temperature to be around 72 degrees.

With 15 going postward, the purse will gross $163,000, with the second richest return to the winner—$120,500.

San Francisco Triumphs, 4-2

Giants Hand Phils 5th Straight Loss

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Willie Mays, his home run bat temporarily muted, scored from first base on a single with a key run Friday night to help the league-leading San Francisco Giants defeat the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2. Mays' stroke of daring — with the aid of a lapse by the Phils' infield — came in the third inning and eased the way for Juan Marichal's victory over Frank Sullivan. The defeat was the first in a row for Philadelphia.

The Giants center-fielder, on first base following a walk, broke for second on a hit-and-run play with Orlando Cepeda at bat. Cepeda singled into short left, where Bob by Gene Smith fielded the ball and threw to shortstop Ruben Amaro.

Mays never slowed down at third base and scored in a breeze as Amaro threw to second in an attempt to head off Cepeda. Then, in a brief rundown, Amaro left the bag unrounded and Cepeda wound up safe at second.

Mays' dash for home in the third made it 3-1 and Callison hit his fourth homer in the Phils' half of the inning. The score remained 3-2 until the ninth when the Giants added their first run on a double by Jim Davenport and a single by Chuck Hillier.

Locals Have Copped Last Twelve Matches

The men's golf team of the Cumberland Country Club will put a two-year 12-match winning streak on the line when they open the season Sunday at Martinsburg, W. Va., at 1 p.m.

The CCC team swept their series with the Martinsburg Country Club last season and wound up with a 10-0 record. The current winning streak started in 1959 when the locals won their last two matches of the campaign.

Matches are scheduled with Martinsburg, Fountain Head (Hagerstown) Kingwood and Maplehurst away from home before the CCC team meets Kingwood here July 9. Since 1946 the Cumberland golfers are undefeated at home, having piled up a total of 61 victories over the Christie Road course.

Local players slated to participate in the Martinsburg match are as follows:

J. T. Mason, Bob Reinhard, C. W. Harper, Jr., Bill Levings, Bob Wilkins, Paul Owens, Harold Marx, Bob Davis and Richard Zembower.

The Giants center-fielder, on first base following a walk, broke for second on a hit-and-run play with Orlando Cepeda at bat. Cepeda singled into short left, where Bob by Gene Smith fielded the ball and threw to shortstop Ruben Amaro.

Hebert Holds Tourney Lead

Sam Snead's 135 Two Strokes Back

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Jay Hebert whacked out another sub-par round of golf Friday—a five-under-par 67 — to hang onto the lead at the midway mark of the $52,000 Tournament of Champions.

Coupled with his blistering 66 in the first round, the 38-year-old Lafayette, La., professional increased his lead over the field to two strokes with 133.

Hebert had a 34-35—67 for the 7,000-yard par 36-36 — 72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

Veteran Sam Snead added a 67 to his initial 68 for 135.

Masters champion Gary Player of South Africa shot his second straight 70 for 140. The biggest blowup of the day happened to the National Open and two-time Masters winner, Arnold Palmer. He took a sad 76 for 145 and most of his trouble stemmed from a treacherous putter. Palmer four-putted the short par 3 fourth.

Twins Defeat Boston, 5-1

Kralick Hurls Six-Hit Victory

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's Jack Kralick turned in another sterling pitching performance Friday, stopping Boston 5-1 on a six-hitter.

The crafty southpaw fanned six in winning his second against Minnesota's three-game losing streak.

The Twins jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the second and were never headed. Boston starter and loser Tom Brewer walked the first three batters and Harmon Killebrew scored when Billy Gardner hit into a double play.

Golden Nugget, Hi Dee To Play For Top Berth

Race Ends In Tie, Match Set Tuesday

A playoff match between the Hi Dee Club and Golden Nugget to determine the regular season championship of the Allegheny County Women's Shuffleboard League will be staged Tuesday at 8:30 p.m., at Ruth's Tavern.

Golden Nugget and the Hi Dee Club finished in a tie for first place with 70-32 records as the regular schedule was concluded Wednesday night.

Plans for the league's Shaughnessy playoffs will be made following completion of the Golden Nugget-Hi Dee match. In the playoff semi-finals team No. 1 plays team No. 3 and team No. 2 opposes team No. 4. The semi-finals and finals will be six games total points.

Three of the four teams in the playoffs, namely, Golden Nugget, Hi Dee Bar and Ruth's Tavern, were among the six teams in the post-season games last year.

This is the 13th season for the league. Golden Nugget of Frostburg was the regular season champion in 1960 with a 66-30 record.

The Cumberland Owls defeated Golden Nugget in the playoff final last year. Frostburg American Legion, champions for seven consecutive years, is no longer a member of the league. Before the Legion's long reign, 1953 through 1959, the winners were: Cumberland W.O.W. 1952; Stadium Inn, Frostburg, 1950 and 1951, and Cresap Tavern in 1949.

Beall's High's Mountaineers batter around in the first inning as they combed four LaSalle pitchers for eight runs and went on to record their fifth straight Allegheny County High School League triumph yesterday at Frostburg. The score was 13-7.

The first nine batters reached first safely as Beall combined four singles, two with the bases loaded, two hit batsmen, three walks and two LaSalle errors for their big inning.

Ronnie Speir, LaSalle catcher, making his first start of the season as a pitcher, bore the brunt of the attack and took the loss. He was followed to the mound by Talley, Bill Lovett, John Sloan and Rich Shaffer.

Wilson Singles Twice

Jim Wilson singled twice in the big inning for Beall and Allen Eisell and Jim Haupt connected with the sacks jammed to high light the batting spree.

In the third inning Richard McKenzie tripled off Sloan with the sacks loaded as Beall added four more tallies and then Eisell hit a three-bagger in the fifth off Shaffer and scored on a single by Haupt.

Wilson and Eisell had three hits apiece for Beall as the Western Division leaders cleared the decks for their upcoming battle with Fort Hill on the Sentinels' field Tuesday. Fort Hill is leading the Eastern Division with a 5-0 mark.

Robert Green had two hits for LaSalle which suffered its second defeat in five league starts.

Allegheny High's Campers bounced back from Thursday's 9-8 loss to LaSalle to edge Valley High's winless Black Knights, 6-5 yesterday at Lonaconing.

Pinch Hit Wins

Kenny Davis' pinch single in the top of the seventh broke Jim Willets with the run that scored a 5-5 tie and gave Bob Wharton, pitching in relief, his first victory for Allegheny.

Jim Stewart started on the mound for the Campers against Lefty Wayne Johnson. Valley knotted the score in the sixth inning as Marvin Miller doubled and came home on Dick Faugrieve's one-base blow. Wharton then relieved Stewart to end the inning on Bert Fair's infield out.

In the seventh with two out Willets walked and Jimmy Bell, pinch-hitting for Bill Ritchey, also stroled for the sixth pass given up by Johnson. Davis, batting for Bob Bishop, then singled sharply to drive in the winning run.

The victory was the third for Allegheny who tied LaSalle for second place in the Eastern standings. Valley suffered its fourth straight setback.

The loss was the first for Melody Manor as the victors touched Jerry O'Baker for 15 hits. Clyde Kennell and Bobby Walls banded out three hits apiece and Hap Kennell had a pair of doubles for Kennell's Mill.

Glass, Brant and Cessna shared Melody Manor's three hits, all singles.

Ellerslie chalked up its first league win with a 7-3 triumph at Corriganville whose Hermans bowed for the second time. Vern Lowery permitted only three hits as the Hermans tallied all their runs in the second inning.

Rich Lybarger had three bingles and Steve Faulkner chipped in with a pair of hits to pace Ellerslie's 10-hit assault on Gary Hite. Jim Miller's triple was the only extra base blow for Corriganville.

In a nine-inning thriller at Hyndman the Vets battled Stringtown to a 4-4 tie, the game being called because of darkness.

Kendall and Paul Stair were batted for 17 hits by VFW batters, but were tough in the clutches and limited the Vets to four runs.

Junior Brelsford, the league's leading hurler last season with Greenpoint Inn, made his first start for Hyndman and permitted only six hits over the nine-inning route.

Joe Sager smacked out a triple, double and two singles and Pep May had a three-bagger for the Vets who rallied in the bottom of the seventh for two runs to send the game into overtime.

Tar Heels Down Maryland, 16-3

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—North Carolina scored 8 runs in the second inning Friday enroute to a 16-3 whipping of Maryland in an Atlantic Coast Conference baseball game.

Centerfielder Jim Mooring, the ACC's leading hitting, paced the North Carolina attack in revenge of a 8-7 loss to Maryland here Thursday. Mooring drove in five runs with a homer, double and single in five trips to the plate.

The victory raised North Carolina's conference record to 7-2, and gave the Tar Heels an overall season mark of 12-4. The loss was Maryland's eighth in conference play against five victories, and left the Terps with a 7-12 season record.

Play Time Upset By My Portrait In Kentucky Oaks

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Fred W. Hooper's My Portrait upset the favored Pin Oak Stable's Play Time in the 87th running of the $43,500 Kentucky Oaks Friday at Churchill Downs.

Play Time, 3-5 choice, was beaten by a neck after jockey Johnny Sellers claimed a foul against the winner, ridden by Braulio Baeza.

Sellers claimed My Portrait interfered with him on the first turn but stewards disallowed the protest.

The Fourth Estate Stable's Times Two finished third, four lengths behind Play Time.

The 1-16-mile race for 3-year-old fillies drew 11 starters as an all-day rain left the track a sloppy lake of mud and water. The time was 1:47.

Ironically, the jockeys involved in Friday's foul claim are riding the two top favorites for Saturday's Kentucky Derby. Sellers will be aboard the favorite Carry Back, while Baeza rides Crozier, also owned by Hooper.

Pony Leaguers Drill

Bobcats Will Play WVU Frosh Today

Frostburg State Teachers College's baseball team goes to Morgantown today to windup its two-game series with the West Virginia University freshmen.

Coach Harold Corbitt's Bobcats will be engaging in their fifth game of the season, having split even in four games played to date.

Frostburg dropped a 5-3 decision to the freshmen on April 26 in a game played at Keyser.

Potomac State will play Frostburg State in Keyser on Monday.

During three years in high school, Hetzel scored 1,210 points and never averaged less than 20 points a game.

Fred Hetzel is a son of Frederick Zimmerman Hetzel, native of Cumberland, and one of the nation's foremost authorities on employment security matters. The latter served as manager of the local office of the Maryland Employment Service in the early 1940s and is now director of the U.S. Employment Service for the District of Columbia. He is a graduate of Allegheny High School where he played basketball.

Young Hetzel has been a stand-out basketball player at Landon School for the past three years.

Tourney Winner Is ACC Champion

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—The Atlantic Coast Conference voted Friday to declare its basketball tournament winner champion. The action followed withdrawal by North Carolina of its proposal to declare the regular season leader the champion.

The conference turned down a basketball committee recommendation that it consider making available the second ACC team for the NCAA basketball tournament as an at-large entry, should the NCAA so desire. Unanimous approval was required to pass the measure and a "no" vote by Virginia brought its defeat. The matter may come up again, however, at the Dec. 8 meeting.

Hunch Players Win On Cat In Stall 3

ALBANY, Calif. (AP)—The hull after the fourth race at Golden Gate Fields Friday was suddenly disturbed by an unscheduled event—a cat scampering away from her six kittens.

The scruffy gray mama cat darted this way and that on the track while fans in the stands looked up from their form charts.

Then the cat settled down in stall No. 3.

"Aha!" said the hunch players. "Number 3 she is."

And darned if No. 3 didn't come through—at better than 10 to 1.

Juanro scored a half-length victory and paid $23.40 to win.

Market Regular Friday; Space-Age Shares Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—Inspired by the success of America's first manned flight into space, rocket-missile-electronic shares advanced Friday in an irregular market which closed with only a moderate gain.

While Wall Street, and especially the space age stocks, had much to cheer about, the market was laboring under the disadvantage of strong advances in the past three sessions. Profit taking was in order and a preweekend session is usually one of caution. The market was mixed at the start while attention was on Cape Canaveral. When the flight was announced a success, the space age stocks rallied and the rest of the list followed to a limited extent. As the session wore on, the stocks backed away from some of their best gains and the overall list looked spotty.

The balance of the statistics, however, was on the upside. Of the 1,301 issues traded, 615 advanced and 490 declined. New highs for the year totaled 120 and new lows 7. The Associated Press average value from $8.05 million Thursday of 60 stocks gained .10, placing this indicator at a historic high of 246.80 as it topped Thursday's peak. The industrials rose .50, rails were unchanged and utilities dropped .10.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 1.58 to 690.67. The more comprehensive Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .08 to 66.52.

Volume dipped to 498 million shares from 535 million Thursday. McDonnell Aircraft, prime contractor for the Mercury astronaut project which sent Cmdr. Alan D. Shepard Jr. into space, spurred more than 3 points on the first Canaveral. When the flight was announced a success, the space age stocks rallied and the rest of the list followed to a limited extent. As the session wore on, the stocks backed away from some of their best gains and the overall list looked spotty.

Cards of Thanks

We take this means of extending our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors who were so kind during our recent bereavement, the death of our husband and father, Dilton James. We especially wish to thank Rev. Robert Current, the pallbearers, those who donated cars, sent floral tributes and all others who in any manner assisted us.

Frostburg Gets Go-Ahead For Housing Project

Will Advertise Bids For 25 Duplex Units

Bids will be advertised tomorrow for a 50-unit housing development in Frostburg.

William M. Thomas, chairman, and William W. Sluss Jr., executive secretary of the Frostburg Housing Authority, were notified yesterday by the division of sanitary engineering of the State Department of Health that a permit for the development had been granted.

Work on the development has been held up pending an agreement between Frostburg and the County Sanitary Commission to cooperate in finding the most feasible program for sewage disposal.

Thomas W. Shives of the State Health Department told a meeting of county and city officials held this week that the project could get under way immediately when such an agreement was reached.

John H. Gates, chief of project planning for the Public Housing Administration in Washington, remarked at that time that if approval from the State Department of Health was received in Washington by yesterday, bids could be advertised next week.

Plans call for 25 duplex units comprising 50 dwelling units to be constructed in the old Junior Order Park. The homes will be split-level design and will be located in the park so as to retain as many of the trees as possible.

Access to the new development will be from South Water Street Parklane, and a proposed extension of Broadway.

Proposed forms of contract documents, including plans and specifications, will be on file at the office of the architect, S. Russ Minter, 72 Pershing Street, after May 9. Bids will be received until 2 p. m. June 13, at the Frostburg Housing Authority office, Fidelity Bank Building.

Almost $1,000,000 is involved in the development with nearly $100,000 having been spent already in land purchase, surveys, architect fees and office maintenance.

Parking Data To Be Studied By Police

Officials of the Cumberland Police Department expect soon to begin evaluating information received at the 7th International Workshop on Parking held in Norfolk this week.

Commissioner Philmore Fleming said all of the municipal officials attending the conference reported they had traffic and parking problems, although the extent varied with local conditions.

He said most of the traffic experts are advocating going to off-street parking in the downtown areas, except where streets are wide enough to allow parking without interfering with the flow of traffic.

While in Norfolk, the police officials were briefed on what that city has done on redevelopment and how an urban renewal project can aid municipal parking.

Brief Note Probated As Last Will

A hand-written note on a single sheet of paper signed the day she died was probated yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court as the last will of Mrs. Ada Conley Long, who was a 65-year-old resident of 216 North Centre Street, when she died April 13.

The brief will, dated April 13, gave her husband, J. Thomas Long, a life interest in their property on North Centre Street. The property will go to St. Patrick's Catholic Church upon his death.

The will made no provision for an executor. Mr. Long qualified as administrator c.t.a. of the estate under a $1,000 bond.

Also probated yesterday was the last will of Mrs. Minnie D. Nicola, who was an 83-year-old resident of 319 Vine Street in Westernport at the time of her death January 2.

Her daughter, Mrs. Elva Ellen McCabe, 402 Vine Street, Westernport, qualified as executrix under a $500 bond. She was the sole beneficiary of the will dated March 10, 1947.

Merchants Plan Flag Display For Racing Days

The Retail Merchants Association will sponsor a flag display in the downtown business area next weekend in connection with the Sports Car Races.

Supplies for the display have been received at the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce office.

They include checkered racing flags and American flags, along with brackets which will be used to hold the flags high on light poles.

The flags will be placed about 14 feet from the ground, high enough to clear big trucks, and out of reach of youngsters.

Only one flag was salvaged from last year's Sports Car display, when they were within easy reach.

Travel Editors Stop Here On Maryland Tour

Are Spending Night In Garrett County

Editors and travel counselors making the Historic Maryland tour were greeted by a breath of spring and a warm welcome as they visited this Western Maryland industrial center yesterday.

The same three dozen travel experts passed over mountains bright with redbud and dogwood and one stopped to pick a huge bunch of violets she found blooming on the banks of U.S. Route 40, which is being modernized by the Maryland State Roads Commission under the five-year primary highway construction speedup authorized by the General Assembly.

The party was met at the top of Town Hill by C. M. Sanner, president of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce; John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer for the State Roads Commission, and John L. Towler, vice president of the Maryland Travel Council and director of the Route 40 Association.

Inspect Cabin

Their first stop here was at the Allegany County Historical Society, where they were greeted by Miss Ruth Clauson, president, and Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

A visit was made to George Washington's Headquarters in Riverside Park, where colonial flags of America and Great Britain were flown.

Traditional Maryland food was featured at luncheon in the Fort Cumberland Hotel under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce, Anton's and the hotel.

Mr. Towler introduced Miss Clauson, Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming, Mr. Sanner, Mr. Petersen, Leonard C. Neff, CIDC director, and Delegate Thomas F. Conlon Jr. and James L. Conlon, operators of the Conlon Travel Agency here.

Franklin Smith, Washington writer, said during the brief program that the group was impressed by the genuine hospitality shown and the lack of "attempts to peddle anything."

Will Stop Here

The party left this city located in the heart of the Potomac Highlands by way of the Narrows, historic Gateway to the West in early America.

Miss Clauson greeted the group at the old Route 40 toll gate house, and passed them toll free as they left for Garrett County, where they are spending the night as guests of the Garrett County-Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council.

They will return to Allegany County this morning and will be guests of the Route 40 Association at a luncheon at All Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Earle R. Poorbaugh, special events officer of the Department of Economic Development and executive director of the Maryland Travel Council, was director of the tour.

Woman Shot In Leg At Maysville

Authorities Still Investigating Case

Authorities in Grant County, W. Va., are investigating the shooting of a 33-year-old Maysville woman yesterday morning.

Reported in "fair" condition last night at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, was Mrs. Catherine R. Brogan.

Sheriff John Groves of Grant County said Mrs. Brogan was shot in the lower part of the leg with a 12-gauge shotgun, but circumstances in the shooting are still under investigation.

The shooting occurred at the home of a neighbor, where Mrs. Brogan is employed as housekeeper.

Neighbors told police they heard reports about 10 a. m. which sounded like gun shots. However, Mrs. Brogan was not found until 1:30 p. m.

She was found lying unconscious in a truck after she had apparently dragged herself from another truck in an effort to get help, police said.

Mrs. Brogan was admitted to the Keyser hospital about 5 p. m. and is reported to be suffering from a very serious leg wound.

Sheriff Groves said several shots were fired, but Mrs. Brogan apparently was struck only once.

Assisting with the investigation is the West Virginia State Police detachment at Petersburg.

Connie Stevens, 22, Destined For TV Stardom

The trend of TV adventure and mystery shows nowadays is to have the locale situated in an exotic setting.

"Hawaiian Eye," now in its second successful season, captures the atmosphere of the Hawaiian Islands. The native dishes, dancing girls, euphonious language, and famous hotels of Honolulu are authentically presented in the background.

Connie Stevens

To complement the beauty of such atmosphere might be considered a great task. But Connie

Stevens, blond actress-singer, who plays the role of Chryseis "Cricket" Blake, not only complements the natural beauty but adds considerably to the series by her singing and as a part time aide to a pair of private eyes, Tracy Steele (Anthony Eisley) and Thomas Lopaka (Bob Conrad).

Although born in Brooklyn, Connie—Concetta Ann—(McGinley) Ingolia was equipped from the day of her birth to play her role. Of Italian, Irish, English, Mohican Indian extraction, she fits in perfectly. Her ancestry is in keeping with the inhabitants of Hawaii, a mixture of many nations.

Although only 22 years old, Connie has an outstanding list of roles to her credit. Her first important break came when Jerry Lewis chose her for his leading lady in his production, "Rock-a-bye Baby."

Warner Brothers signed Connie as the first artist for the company's new recording corporation and for two pictures a year for seven years. She subsequently appeared in two of the studio's TV productions—"Sugarfoot" and "Maverick." The "Hawaiian Eye" assignment came before a script had been written for the series.

Connie attended schools in Brooklyn and New Jersey. As president of her freshman high school class, she holds the distinction of being the first girl ever to be impeached from a student body office at the school. She had convinced the faculty that the class should use its radio appreciation hour to tune in the final game of the World Series. As the game grew in excitement, complete bedlam broke loose among the students. The result was a decision by the faculty to remove her as the freshmen's guiding light! The year was not a failure, however, for the class voted her most popular and most likely to succeed.

When she was 15, Connie and her father moved to Los Angeles. Her father has been a musician and night club entertainer for 39 years. Here she enrolled at Sacred Heart Academy for Girls. After winning several talent contests, she transferred to the Hollywood Professional School.

Connie's first acting job came in 1957 in a TV commercial for a large bakery. Her agent, Byron Griffith, had suggested it would be a good way for her to break into motion pictures. He proved to be correct. He was able to place her in small roles in "Eighteen and Anxious" and "Young and Dangerous." Then came leads on TV's "Matinee Theatre," in the picture "Drag Strip Riot" and a "Sugarfoot" TV offering.

Connie's youth, fine voice and vibrant personality are fast making her another teen-age idol.

It may seem a long way from Brooklyn to Hawaii, but Connie Stevens is a natural to go much further in the world of entertainment.

'Sing Along With Mitch' Hailed As Huge Success

No show in the history of NBC has won such overwhelming approval as Mitch Miller's "Sing Along With Mitch."

So states Kay Cole, in charge of measuring mail reaction for the network. "The gist of the mail," she reveals, "is that TV has found at last a show for 'all the family'."

She worked in Washington, doing interviews with women for a newspaper syndicate. NBC asked her to do a radio interview. She did—and they asked for more. Gradually she has built up her reputation and broken down the anti-female barriers in network news departments.
